WHAT'S NEW

Compliance & Ethics Celebration

Corporate Compliance & Ethics Week is celebrated nationally in November. The Society of Corporate Compliance and Ethics (SCCE) started this tradition in 2005 to shine a spotlight on the importance of compliance and ethics. The core principles of this event are awareness, recognition, and reinforcement.

UF Health Compliance Services has expanded this celebration a step further by promoting Compliance and Privacy Awareness during the entire month of November with a number of activities. This year, UF Compliance and Ethics will also be participating. We encourage you to attend one of the events.

See more information about UF Health schedule of events under Compliance Partner News.

UF Core Values Presidential Advisory Council

The new UF Core Values Presidential Advisory Council held its first meeting on October 21, 2022. The Council's membership represents faculty, staff, and students from across UF's community and is charged with the following responsibilities:

1. Advise the University of Florida President in how to best engage the campus in the UF Core Values;
2. Educate the UF community and stakeholders on the UF Core Values and their relevance in defining our Gator identity and culture;
3. Inventory and evaluate best practices that exemplify UF's Core Values and recommend areas of opportunity to enhance operationalization and implementation of UF's Core Values;
4. Celebrate exemplars of UF Core Values by identifying and recommending avenues for recognition of administrators, faculty, staff, students, and alumni/other constituents who demonstrate the application of core values in practice and oversee selection of recipients;
5. Plan activities that encourage UF community-wide focus and embedding of UF's Core Values into everyday new and existing practices and operations;
6. Communicate to the UF community and stakeholders the relevance of the UF Core Values, results of inventories and evaluations, and impacts of activities designed to embed the UF Core Values into UF's fabric; and
7. Serve as a resource to UF community members reaching out for advice or guidance on existing and potential opportunities to incorporate core values into unit activities.

Dr. Angela Lindner, Associate Provost for Undergraduate Affairs, provided oversight for creation of the UF Core Values Presidential Advisory Council. Dr. Lindner said that the Council "is a culmination of important work developed by the UF Values Council led by Dr. Diane McFarlin (former dean of the College of Journalism and Communications) in 2020, approval by the UF Board of Trustees in 2021, and initial introduction to campus by a dedicated group of UF administrators, faculty, staff, and students who served on a special task force this past year. The Council will partner with the UF President to ensure that the six UF Core Values serve as a foundation for our work and a distinguishing mark of our shared identity as Gators."

During the October 21st Council meeting, President Fuchs expressed his gratitude for the Council's work and shared his own views on the importance of the UF Core Values.

"The core values underpin who we are and what we do at the University of Florida. They are the foundation for our present mission and our vision for the future. By stewardship—these values become incredibly important in plotting UF's course for the future and in reaffirming our identity in times of challenge."

-UF President Kent Fuchs

Clery Corner with Dr. D

Campus Security Authority Training

Campus Security Authorities or CSAs are a vital part of UF's institutional effort in working together for a safe campus. CSAs are defined by the Clery Act and designated by the University of Florida. The responsibilities of a CSA are straightforward – report certain crimes identified by the Clery Act that are reported to you which occurred on or around UF campuses and properties.

CSA training will be assigned early November to all new and continuing CSAs. If you receive a notice for training, you have been identified as a CSA by the UF Clery Program in collaboration with Human Resources. Be sure to complete the training course through myTraining.

If a crime has been disclosed to you and you have not already reported it, you can do so using the CSA Report Form.

Annual UF Alert Test

Mark your calendars for the annual test of the UF Alert System being held on November 29th. UF will test the UF Alert System at Gainesville-Main Campus, UF Health Jacksonville, UF Research and Education Center at Lake Nona, and UF Scripps Biomedical Sciences campuses. Additionally, UF Health Shands will also test their emergency messaging system. On that day you should receive multiple messages - such as text messages and emails - branded UF Alert.

Be sure to update your contact information and check your UF Alert preferences in ONE.UF!

COMPLIANCE HOTLINE

The University of Florida Compliance Hotline is a 24-hour, 7 day-a-week resource for reporting potential legal, policy, or ethical conduct violations or concerns. You have the option to remain anonymous when submitting reports via the Compliance Hotline, and University policy prohibits retaliation against employees who report any concern in good faith.

Please note: Events presenting an immediate threat to life or property should be reported via 911, not the Compliance Hotline. Additionally, student not be reported via the Compliance Hotline. For those matters, please contact your college Dean's Office or the Division of Student Life.

There are two ways to report through the Compliance Hotline:

Call: 1-877-556-5356

Report Online
